ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER FOR PATENTS

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20231

SIR:

PETITION FOR REVIVAL OF AN APPLICATION FOR PATENT ABANDONED
UNINTENTIONALLY UNDER 37 CFR 1.137(b)

This Petition for Revival is in response to the Notice of Abandonment dated February 20, 2003 and the Office Actions dated July 26, 2002 and September 18, 2002 (wherein the attempted response by the pro se inventor was considered Non-Compliant under 37 CFR 1.121).

OFFICE OF PETITIONS

In full compliance with USPTO requirements, the following items accompany this Petition for Revival:

- 1) Petition Fee of $640, as set forth in 37 CFR 1.27;
- 2) A Response, including Amendments to the body and claims of the application;
- 3) Statement that the delay was unintentional, see item number 4 on page 2 of the attached form PTO/SB/64.

No Terminal Disclaimer is needed since the present application is a utility application filed after June 8, 1995.

In addition to the Statement of unintentional delay referenced above and included herein, a few relevant facts are presented to further assist you in justifying the grant of this petition. This patent application was originally filed, and initially prosecuted pro se, by an inventor with no patent experience. In fact, it was filed with no Detailed Description at all. After several communications between the inventor and the Examiner, the inventor was surprised, and somewhat confused, by a notice from the USPTO indicating that his application had been abandoned.

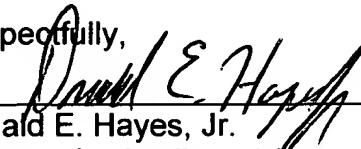

Sometime about April, I think, the inventor was able to get copies of all of the papers involved in his case from the USPTO and essentially create a complete a file history. The inventor solicited my advice and assistance regarding his options. Upon review of the materials, it was decided that instead of filing another application, the current application could be revived and the necessary amendments presented to perfect the original application and prosecute it through to issuance.

While admittedly a couple of months have passed since the recreation of the inventor's file, it is directly stated here that the delay was unintentional. There is nor has been any attempt whatsoever to adversely affect the patent process, but instead merely time to thoughtfully and diligently consider available options and act in the inventor's best interest.

Thanks in advance for your favorable consideration of this Petition for Revival of an Application for patent abandoned unintentionally under 37 CFR 1.137(b).

Respectfully,

By

Donald E. Hayes, Jr.
